Saad Azmat

```sql
create database schoolmanagement;

use schoolmanagement;

create table teacher(

name varchar(34),

age int,

salary int,

department varchar(20)

);

insert  into teacher(name,age,salary,department,qualification)

values('ali',13,120000,'bsds','ph.d')

alter table teacher

add qualification varchar(20)

create table student(

 name varchar(34),

age int,

section varchar(23),

department varchar(20)

);

insert into student(name,age,section,department) values ('ahmed',23,'A','bscs')

alter table student

drop column department

create table classes(

name varchar(21),

number int,
```

```
chairs int,

strength int

);

insert into classes(name,number,chairs,strength)

values('bscs',12,34,50)

select * from teacher

select *from student

select* from classes
```